COPYRIGHT

The copyright law of the United States – Title 17, United States Code – concerns the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproductions. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be “used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research.” If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of “fair use,” that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copy order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of the copyright law.

STATEMENT ON DUPLICATE IMAGES

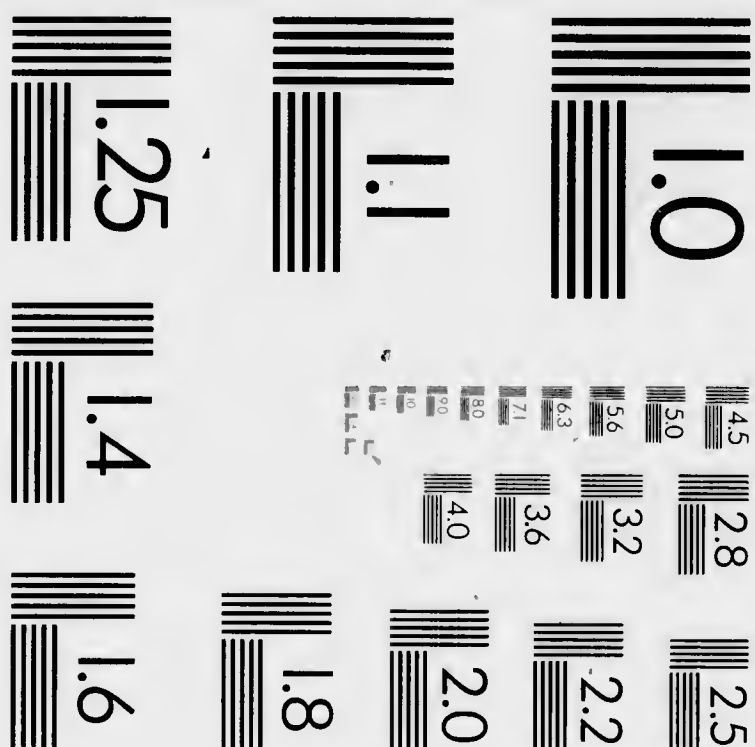

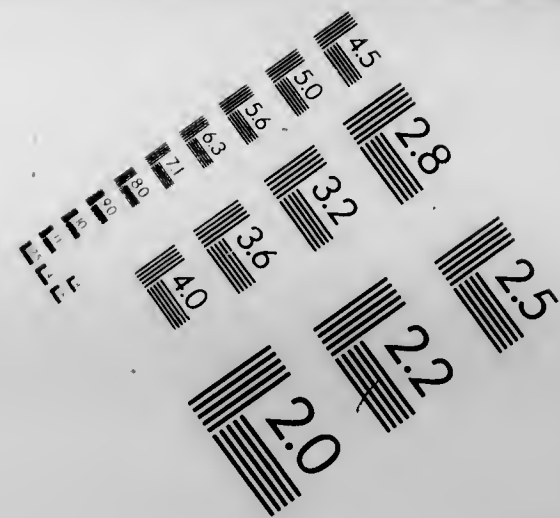

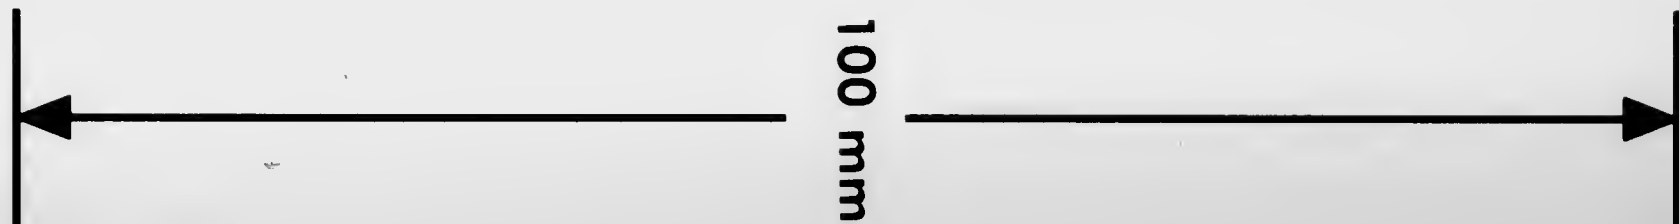

This reel of microfilm contains material which has paper color changes, stains, or illustrations (some of which may appear on pages mixed with printed text). In order to ensure that all text and illustrations are legible, exposure settings must be changed. Therefore, when text and illustrations exist in a single image or when material backgrounds differ, such frames may need to be exposed twice.

The first exposure reflects the camera operator's best effort to capture the majority of the text; the second exposure reflects the camera operator's best effort to capture illustrative material or the remaining text. It is hoped that this practice will result in a microfilm product that fully serves the needs of most researchers.

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION.

The Institution was opened in September, 1848, under the patronage of the Baltimore and Philadelphia Conferences of the M. E. Church. Its success has far surpassed the most sanguine anticipations of its friends. Situated in one of the most beautiful and picturesque valleys of the Susquehanna, its location—for health, beauty of scenery, and convenient access by coaches and canal packets—is unsurpassed; and the facilities afforded for thorough instruction are such, that its claims can be presented with confidence to the patrons of learning.

LECTURES on the several branches of Natural Science will be delivered at regular and stated periods.

VOCAL MUSIC.—Instruction in this science will be given to the entire school, by a competent teacher, at regular periods.

A NORMAL CLASS will be formed (if required), and special attention will be given to those who may wish to prepare themselves for the important duties of teaching.

APPARATUS.

The Institution is furnished with a superior collection of apparatus, together with full sets of maps and charts, thus affording every requisite facility for illustration and experiment in Astronomy, Philosophy, Chemistry, Anatomy, and Physiology.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

A large and commodious building will be speedily erected, designed to accommodate students from abroad. Rooms and boarding can now be obtained in private families, with every necessary convenience, at the following prices:—

Board and Lodging, with privilege of a common fire,	$1 75
Board, Lodging, lights and fire in private room,	2 00
Washing (per month),	1 00

Every boarding-house is subject to the visitation of the teachers, and those having charge of the same are required to report, on inquiry, every instance of violation of rule.

ADMISSION.

Application for admission must be made to the Principal, at his office in the Seminary building. No person will be admitted to the Academic Department who will not pledge himself to observe all the rules and regulations of the Institution. Every student will be considered a member of the school until the Principal shall be notified of his intention to leave.

LIBRARY.

The nucleus of a library has been formed, which already embraces many of the most valuable works in the English language. To this, constant additions are making; and every student, for a trifling fee, can have access to a rich and entertaining fund of information.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline is mild but firm, calculated to promote intellectual advancement and improve the heart. Every encouragement will be afforded to the studious and well disposed, but the indolent and unprincipled can find no resting-place within the pale of the Institution.

RELIGIOUS SERVICE.

Every student is required to attend the religious exercises at the opening and close of school each day, as well as public worship twice every Sabbath, at such place as parents or guardians may designate.

CALENDAR.

The Academical year is divided into two Terms of two Quarters each, commencing as follows:—

First Quarter, Sept. 5, 1849.	Third Quarter, Feb. 4, 1850.
Second Quarter, Nov. 19, 1849.	Fourth Quarter, April 18, 1850.

The year closes July 4, 1850.

EXAMINATIONS.

There will be a public examination at the end of each Term, at which every student is required to be present, and at the close of the year a public exhibition.

GENERAL REMARKS.

It is earnestly recommended to parents and guardians to conform as far as possible to the preceding arrangement and classification of studies, by having their children or wards in attendance at the commencement of the Terms. The classes will then be formed, and those entering at that time will enjoy advantages which they cannot subsequently acquire.

It is required of those living at a distance to entrust the management of funds to some resident Patron, and satisfy no bills unless contracted by his order. Such a course will shield the parent from unnecessary expense, promote the best interests of the student, and remove every power of injury from the avaricious and unprincipled.

A regular merit-roll will be kept, and monthly reports of advancement and deportment forwarded to parents and guardians.

BY-LAWS.

1. The hours of study shall be as follows:—

WINTER TERM—	6 to 8 A. M.	1 P. M. to 5.
